

Friday Guest Blog Interview: Pizzazzerie

July 9, 2010

Today's guest interview is all about the party... from fabulous celebration inspiration to great gift guides Pizzazzerie (and the delightful creator behind it) shares delicious party details on a very well organized site (I love that).

Courtney, who's self-proclaimed favorite dessert is vanilla cupcakes, designed Pizzazzerie after a growing love of entertaining for family and friends during college. She shares that her love of entertaining comes "from the pure joy of hosting parties that create memories", and her site is full of oodles of memory-making inspiration.

{Pizzazz: An attractive combination of energy and style.}

While you're on the site, be sure to check out the great Paperie Guide, adorable Children's Parties and beautiful Wedding Showcases but together by a collection of
